perfection in every way. He pointed out where he was going to put different buildings for different kinds of amusements; he showed where plots would be laid out for flower beds; he showed where he intended to locate the field for athletic sports. He was very communicative and talked freely of his future plans. This may have been due to the fact that in mingling with the people he had been the recipient of hearty expressions of gratitude from many who really appreciate what he has done for his people in the magnanimity of his great benefaction—the gift of Greenwood Park. One could not have listened to this bighearted man unfolding his plans to give to his people, their children and posterity forever as nearly an ideal Eden for wholesome pleasure as lay within his power, without feeling deep down in his soul the highest admiration for this truly public benefactor. Many now recognize the nobility of the man, but in after years when what he is now doing shall be seen and fully appreciated by the people, no name will be more reverently spoken than that of—Preston Taylor.

DEATH OF MRS. JAMES DISMUKES.

Mrs. James Dismukes died at her late residence, 516 Fourth avenue, North, on Friday, July 26, aged 33 years. She had been sick one month and three days. She was a loving wife, a faithful church worker and a Christian woman. The funeral services were held at the Fifteenth Avenue Baptist Church, Rev. A. W. Porter pastor, Sunday morning at ten o'clock. The church was crowded with friends of the deceased to pay the last tribute of respect. Rev. Mr. Porter, Dr. C. H. Clark, Rev. J. L. Harding and Rev. J. L. Harding, Jr., had charge of the ceremonies. The interment was at Mount Ararat.

ELEVEN O'CLOCK BREAKFAST.

A moderately well dressed woman fitted into one of the County offices the other day with much aplomb and said that she would like to see the head of the office. There was something about the woman, despite her fairly good clothes, that bespoke humble origin and only recent prosperity. "He is out this afternoon," said the young woman who had been addressed by the visitor.

"Well," exclaimed the other woman, peevishly, "when can I see him?" "He is least likely to be out of the office about 11 in the morning," said the young woman clerk.

"Oh, my dear young woman," said the visitor, as she drew herself to her full height, "that is when I have my breakfast."

After she had gone the clerks who had heard her remarks all had a good laugh.

"She didn't look like 11 o'clock breakfast to me," said one. "I'll venture to say that she sets the alarm clock for 6 o'clock every morning and hustles out of bed to get her husband's breakfast."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

and honey." It is the general opinion or the consensus of opinion of the masses of the Negro Baptists of Tennessee that while Rev. Mr. Haynes may not be a great educator, he is a great hustler, and people would like to see Mr. Haynes made president of this school and given the right of way to put it into operation. The Globe reporter, however, could not get into the secret chambers as he had no mystic key to the majestic entrance. Hence he is unable to give the readers a full view of the future intentions of the Baptists concerning this school project; but enough has been learned to say to the public that the Negro Baptists of Middle Tennessee are awakened and aroused as never before, and it is safe to predict that the first Monday in November, 1907, will find Roger Williams University in operation in the city of Nashville.

FROM CHATTANOOGA TO LITTLE ROCK.

Mrs. T. R. Ish, who has been visiting friends in Chattanooga, passed through Nashville on the way to her home in Little Rock, Ark., Wednesday morning. Mrs. Ish was accompanied by Misses Lessie Johnson and Johnnie Johnson. The Misses Johnson, whose homes are in Chattanooga, will be numbered in the student body at Philander Smith College, Little Rock, the next school year. They visited the National Baptist Publishing House and other places of interest. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kelly, 653 Bass street, while here.

TO KILL MOTHS.

Camphor and Tobacco only Repel—Carbon Bisulphide Advised.

Contrary to the general belief, camphor, naphthalene and tobacco will not kill clothes moths, says Suburban Life. They act merely as repellants; where they are used the moths will not deposit eggs. If the eggs are already laid or if the young have hatched substances of this nature will have no effect.

In May or June the moths appear and lay their eggs, which soon hatch into the destructive grubs that feed on feathers, wool, fur and other things of an animal texture. The campaign against the moths must start early in the spring if immunity for the rest of the year is to be enjoyed.

The easiest way to rid clothes of moths is to give them a thorough brushing once a week and then expose them to air and sunshine. Where they are to be packed away, fumigation with carbon bisulphide is the surest method. The garments are put in a tight trunk, with moth marbles.

Then a saucer is placed on top of the pile with four or five tablespoonfuls of liquid carbon bisulphide in it, easily obtained at all druggists. The lid is closed and the trunk left undisturbed until the clothes are wanted.

The bisulphide evaporates, and being heavier than air, settles through the garments. It is deadly to insect life and will destroy it in all stages. No odor will remain in the clothes after airing them a few moments so that they can be used as soon as they are taken out. The moth marbles prevent other females from crawling in to lay their eggs.

A simple way, but not so sure, is after brushing the goods to pack them in ordinary paper boxes or flour bags, pasting a strip of paper over the cracks in order to keep out the moths. For closets, carpets, furniture or carriage furnishings a thorough sprinkling of benzine or gasoline will clear out the pests.

GUN FIRED BY A RABBIT.

From the London Daily Mail.
An extraordinary incident occurred close to the village of Milton, near Newport Pagnell, on Friday. A commercial traveller while driving along the road stopped to speak to two gentlemen who were shooting rabbits alongside the hedge. One of the gentlemen laid his gun on the ground while he placed a ferret in a hole. A rabbit bolting at this moment ran over the trigger of the loaded gun, which it released with its feet, the traveller having a very narrow escape.

FUNERAL OF MRS. SUSIE NORMAN.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Susie Norman were solemnized at Kayne Avenue Baptist Church Thursday, July 25, at 2 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Denny and Rev. Mr. Davis conducted the ceremonies. The church was filled with friends who came to look upon the face of the dearly loved woman for the last time on earth. Mrs. Norman was a devout Christian, an affectionate wife and a devoted mother. Alsup & McGavock were the funeral directors. The remains were interred at Mt. Ararat.

FOR THE

Parlor and Chapel

One of the most beautiful pictures in the home, a church or a Sunday school, is an organ—one that is built to suit the home, the congregation and the financial condition of the people. This is what a National Baptist organ will do.

The parlor organs are in three styles:

Style No. 2 is 5 octaves, action B, oak case only.

Style No. 3 is 5 and 6 octaves, oak case only.

Style No. 5 is 5 and 6 octaves, case is oak or walnut.

Style No. 75 is our new design. It is quarter sawed, golden oak polish and is put up in a six octave case.
